TATE GALLERY CHRISTMAS TREE

10 December 1992 to 5 January 1993

Each year the Tate Gallery invites an artist to decorate its Christmas tree. This year, the artist Craigie Aitchison RA has been invited to design the decorations. The artist was born in Scotland and works in London and Italy. His vibrant paintings reflect his interest in early Italian art and in religious themes. These concerns will also be apparent in his original and charming decorations for the tree, which will include illuminated birds and other animals.

Craigie Aitchison has also designed a Christmas card especially for the Tate Gallery, for sale in the gallery shop. The tree decorations will be for sale after January 5, details from the Information desk.

The 1992 Christmas Tree and Card are supported by the Patrons of New Art and Tate Gallery Publications.
