

Franck Petitgas, Chairman of the Tate Foundation

Biography

Franck Petitgas is the Global Co-Head of Investment Banking of Morgan Stanley, the investment bank, and based in London. He is a member of the Operating Committee and the Global Management Committee of Morgan Stanley. He joined Morgan Stanley in 1993 in New York and had started his career in the City in 1986 with S. G. Warburg & Co. Ltd.

Franck is an active supporter of the visual arts in the United Kingdom, and a passionate advocate of Latin American contemporary art. He was appointed Chairman of the Tate Foundation in 2011 and served as a Tate Trustee between February 2008 and February 2016.

He is a Chevalier dans l'Ordre de la Légion d' Honneur. Further interests include philosophy, skiing and sailing.